The hanging body of a doctor was recovered from his house in Sylhet city on Monday afternoon.

The deceased was identified as Padmajit Chakrabarti, 31, a doctor at Brahmanbaria Medical Hospital and son of Purnendu Chakrabarti of 20 Swapnil Residential Area in Mirza Jangal under Kotwali police station, police said.

Kotwali police station officer-in-charge Khan Muhammad Mainul Zakir confirmed the recovery to New Age.

He said that police rushed to the spot after being informed by the victim's family members and entered the doctor's room after breaking open the door at about 2:30pm.

‘The doctor was found hanging from the grille of a window in his room. We recovered the body and took it to Sylhet MAG Osmani Medical College Hospital, where doctors declared him dead on arrival,’ the OC said.

He said that the body was kept at the hospital morgue for a post-mortem examination.

The reason for the death could not be known immediately, the OC said.
